Textile Laborers Will Leave City for Good-Violence Feared in Mill Town.

LAWRENCE, Mass., Oct. 6.—An entrely new move was sprung, by the leaders of the Industrial Workers of the World today, when they declared they are ready to begin a general exodus of textile workers from the mills and from this city. and from this city.

Wednesday, they declare, the first 350 workers, vanguard of thousands, will leave the city for good. These men are going to Pittsburgh, where they have found positions in the steel indus-tries and where, they declare, they will receive from $1.75 to $2.40 per day. The leaders assert that they are receiving calls from all parts of the country for laborers, and that the exodus to begin Wednesday will keep up until this city is practically depleted of mill

The rumors causing greatest anxiety are of the intended violence against the Industrial Workers of the World leaders. There is open talk of emulating the action of San Diego, Cal., where the agitators were forcibly expelled from that city by citizens.

Bad feeling continues to grow stronger as the day approaches for the Col-umbus parade, when thousands will carry the United States flag as a means carry the United States flag as a means of showing their condemnation of Industrial Workers of the World methods, Buildings are draped, flags are everywhere, and but for the under current of ill feeling and bitterness a strangerwould believe that Lawrence was in gaia dress for some big holiday. What that day may bring forth can only be guessed.

CITRUS CROP OF FLORIDA LARGE

Seven Million Boxes of Fruit Expected to Be Shipped This Season.

Within the week past the citrus sea-son has opened in Florida, and from now on oranges and grapefruit will be coming from the Everglade State in constantly increasing quantities. Reports from there warrant the estimate that 7,000,600 Soxes, more than half of which will be grape fruit, will be shipped out of the State. If so, 23,000 cars will be required to move the crop.

will be required to move the crop.
Growers are making forecasts as to the value of the crop. Two dollars and twenty-five cents a box for oranges at the shipping point is the price now prevailing. Grapefruit on the New York market has sold in advance at an average of $7.24 a box. It is fenerally believed that an average price of $2 a box can be maintained throughout the season.

Telling Truth Easiest, Declares Police Judge

It is the easiest matter in the world to tell the truth "Instantaneously," or, as some folk say, on "the spur of the moment," according to an opinion given in the Police Sourt by Judge Pugh yes-terday. Instantaneous truth-telling is terday. Instantaneous truth-telling is much easier than the same caliber of fabricating. The matter has been decided officially, the court giving a learned dissertation on the two arts. James Brown, a colored witness, had just answered "yes" to a question put by the lawyer for the defense. The answer was given quickly and was in direct contrast to what the attorney for the defense expected.

"Oh, your honor, pardon me, but I don't believe the witness understood me. I believe he answered on the spur of the moment," said the attorney for the defense apologetically.

the defense apologetically.

"Yes, but a man can tell the truth on the spur of the moment as easily as he can by giving the matter thought," said the court.

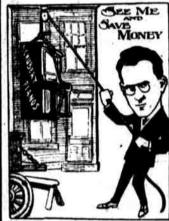

"This man has told the truth. He did it quickly and followed his natural bent. Had he waited to puzzle his mind over the matter his answer would have taken more time."

on the ground that they are English stels, temporarily sojourning in the United States.

"You see, the well-dressed woman of wealth never wears a gown more than a few times before it is discarded," said Mr. Gould. "Bo Mrs. Gould has replaced her gowns shroad as the fashion required. Naturally, she has brought over gowns which she did not have when she left here in May. But to me it seems unfair that we should be composited to pay $5,000 or $6,000 over and above the legitimate expense attached to our journey over here simply so that Mrs. Gould may dress properly."

Alabama Farmer Kills Boy He Took for Possum

MOBILE, Ala., Oct. 6.-Thinking he saw a possum in a chinquapin tree near his home at Thomasville, Ala, Uriah Noble, wealthy farmer shot and killed Thomas Williams, a fifteen-year-old boy, son of another farmer who was sathering nuts in the tree. Noble was overcome when he saw he had killed the lad.

MINISTERS JOIN CONSUMPTION FIGHT

Clergymen of Nation to Preach Against Fake Cures for Tuberculosis.

Thousands of ministers in as many pulpits in all parts of the United States will, on Sunday, October 27, deliver sermons denouncing fake cures for consumption. This is Tuberculosis Day in the United States, and the campaign against the fake remedies is the striking feature of the program advacated by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis. According to information compiled by the association, there are now more than 500. "cures" on the market, and the cost to the American people of these alleged fradulent remedies is more than $15,000,000.

RUNAWAYSTHINK CITY DECORATED FOR THEM

Southern Pair Reaches Wilmington, Del., During Old Home Week Celebration.

WILMINGTON, Del., 'Oct. 6,-"The people of Wilmington must have known that we were coming here to get married the way they have decorated the town." This statement was made to Magistrate Thomas H. Buckley by William D. Hendrickson, aged thirty-foor years, a prominent glass manufacturer of Richmond, Va., who, accompanied by Miss Lena B. Toombs, aged twenty-seven, of Charlottesville, Va., came here to be married.

The occasion for the decorations is an "old home week" celebration.

Mr. Hendrickson said he and his bride

BEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 6.—Fred Barry Strong, who confessed to having robbed two houses here, and whose arrest was caused by imprints left by his large feet, yesterday told the police that his home was in Columbus, Ohio. He said his father was a prominent business man there.

According to Strong, he entered the United States Naval Academy at Annaphies for years ago, and was expelled. Ashamed to go home, he declares, he entered the United States Naval Academy at Annaphies for the decorations is an "old home week" celebration.

BOSTON, Oct. 6.-The threats of Mrs. Samuel Finkel to destroy herself unless her lost boy is soon found and returned to her, called out renewed efforts today to find the three-year-old boy who was to find the three-year-old boy who was taken away last Friday morning by a strange well-dressed woman, who bought candy for him and talked of moving picture shows.

The motive for the kidnaping, if such it proves to be, is a mystery. The Finkels are unable to pay any kind of a ransom, and they know of no enemies.

That the prety little boy was taken by some childless and lonely woman is the only theory yet advanced.
